CRASH GANG WALLOPED

Fraudster:
Mohammed Haque
was behind a scam which swindled nearly £2million out of motor insurance companies

A TEAM of criminals are facing jail after they made nearly £2million from false crash claims through fraudulent accident management companies in Tottenham.

The team of six men, led by mastermind Mohammed Samsul Haque, staged more than 120 fraudulent claims to insurers for accidents which never took place – so called “cash for crash” scams – pocketing £1.17million for themselves after the insurance companies paid out a total of £1.91m.

The criminal gang staged “crashes” in their business premises prior to submitting claims to the insurers for services that were not provided. These claims were for recovery and storage as well as replacement hire vehicles.

From November 2005 to October 2008 a number of London-based accident management companies – which assist motorists with insurance claims – were used as a front to hide their activities.

Motor Alliance, a Tottenham-based company, was set up to handle fraudulent claims by Haque, 26, of Lydford Road, Maida Vale. The business combined accident claim management with other services such as storage facilities and the hire of replacement vehicles while the claim was being settled.

The fraudulent claims mainly involved a low and a high-value car, where the low-value car was always “at fault”. Motor Alliance purported to act for a third-party driver whose expensive vehicle had been hit by an insured policy-holder who would admit liability.

A claim would be made against the insurance of the cheaper vehicle, enabling the fraudsters to make as much cash from the claim as possible. This included costs for repair of the damaged vehicle and its storage as well as often tens of thousands of pounds for a bogus courtesy car.

The courtesy car was often provided from the company’s stock of high-value hire vehicles, such as Mercedes, BMWs and Jaguars, at a charge to the insurance company of up to £350 a day.

Police began to unravel the group’s activities after a tip-off from an insurance company which had noticed a pattern of irregularities in submitted claims. On October 15, 2008 officers raided the business premises of Motor Alliance and found 64 files relating to insurance claims in the boot of a silver Mercedes.

During the investigation it became clear the same individuals were involved in separate claims and some vehicles were used in multiple claims. When dealing with insurance companies Samsul Haque would use the alias Samuel Hague, and on occasions the same hire car was shown as hired out to two or three different clients at the same time.

Police also unearthed reports of a “crashing party” where those present drove low-value cars into high-value cars, consistent with the false claims. After each crash Haque would inspect the cars and, if the damage was deemed insufficient, cause more damage using baseball bats.

Haque was arrested following the police raid, with his five accomplices arrested later.

Detective Superintendent John Hollands, of the traffic operational command unit, said: “This scam has a knock-on effect on insurance companies which pass the cost on to the motorist. So the real victims are everyone who pays motor insurance.”

The gang are due to be sentenced next month for conspiracy to defraud, which carries a maximum sentence of ten years.

New chief to head up Tottenham makeover

A PROGRAMME director has been appointed to deliver major improvements to Tottenham.

Anne Lippitt will lead the Tottenham regeneration programme and connected projects – helping to deliver a fresh vision, aims and outcomes for the area.

Anne, whose role is jointly funded by Haringey Council and the Mayor of London, will oversee a raft of improvements in Tottenham following the disturbances in the summer.

She will ensure the council works closely alongside local businesses, the community and investors to work towards a united vision for the regeneration of Tottenham.

Alan Strickland, cabinet member for economic development and social inclusion, said: "In Anne, we have an expert in her field who will bring a wealth of knowledge and experience to the task of regenerating Tottenham."

"We are excited to have Anne at the helm as we steer Tottenham towards a brighter future for businesses, residents and community groups alike."

Anne is no stranger to Tottenham, having lived just a stone's throw from the High Road as a child. She has previously worked in regeneration roles for a number of London boroughs and spent three months working with the council earlier this year as interim director of place and sustainability.

Anne said: "I am very much looking forward to working in Haringey once again. I am confident that together we can deliver much-needed improvements to the area."

Anne will be responsible for delivering key regeneration projects and reporting to the Tottenham regeneration programme steering committee.

She will work for the council and with the Greater London Authority, local communities and businesses to build a new vision for Tottenham and ensure delivery against agreed targets.

Featherstone backs right to gay marriage

HORNSEY and Wood Green MP Lynne Featherstone is spearheading a new government consultation on equal marriage rights for same sex couples.

The Liberal Democrat equality minister announced this week that a formal inquiry will begin in March, with a view to making any necessary legislative changes in this session of Parliament.

Ms Featherstone said: "Civil partnerships were a welcome first step, but to deny one group of people the opportunities to get married is not only discrimination, it's just not fair."

Plans to get marriage equality for all were made into official Liberal Democrat policy at last year's party conference. It is hoped that any necessary regulations will be in place by the end of the year, in order to allow the first civil partnership on religious premises to take place as soon as possible in the New Year.

The government announced its intention in February to allow religious buildings to host civil partnership registrations, although doing so will remain voluntary. The change is being introduced as part of the Equality Act 2010.

Woman who worked at the heart of Spurs passes on aged 91

SPURS stalwart Barbara Wallace has died at the age of 91.

Mrs Wallace served as personal secretary to Bill Nicholson during his time as manager, working in Tottenham Hotspur's office for 24 years from 1956 until 1980 as a receptionist, telephonist and administrator.

Born in Witney on July 22, 1920, Barbara Clarke married Maurice Wallace, who worked in the aircraft industry, in June 1946. The couple moved to Tollington Park, London, when Mr Wallace started working for the De Havillands Aircraft Company at the Hatfield Aerodrome.

She was widowed ten years later, not long before joining the football club where she was the only full-time female member of staff at the time of the double success in 1961, supplying the blue and white ribbons which were attached to the trophy lifted at Wembley by Danny Blanchflower.

This followed a family tradition which began in 1901 when her grandmother attached navy and white favours to the Spurs trophy at Bolton.

Barbara's grandfather was Morton Cadman, who joined Spurs as a playing member during December 1888 and captained the reserve team in 1890, becoming vice-president and life vice-president of the club in 1943 until his death in December 1948.

Mrs Wallace worked in the Spurs general office with just four staff – in stark contrast to the huge commercial operation of today's football clubs.

She wrote out the cash book and all the cheques, as she was deemed to have the best handwriting. Her other duties included handing the players their wages, in cash, in small brown envelopes and answering fan mail. She also welcomed players, their wives and their children, plus other visitors, preparing and serving refreshments.

Barbara was appointed the personal secretary of Bill Nicholson while he was the manager, and became a close family friend.

She lived in Edmonton until 1996, when she moved into a retirement home in Southgate. She remained very alert and continued to follow football, particularly Spurs, right up to her death.

John Fennelly, head of publications at Tottenham Hotspur, said: “She was a very strong woman who literally ran the club at the time.”

She died on September 5.

Jail for gunman who left two men dead in rampage

By Mary McConnell

A GUNMAN has been jailed for a minimum of 20 years after being found guilty of a double manslaughter and an attempted murder on the streets of north London.

Hajdar Kasumaj, 51, was given a life sentence after shooting dead 45-year-old Nezir Golaj, and Osman Grbic, 58, in July last year.

He was convicted of manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility due to mental health problems.

Kasumaj also admitted attempting to murder Safet Rakaj in Wightman Road, Harringay.

On July 9, 2010 Mr Golaj, of Garth Road, Cricklewood, was driving his car along his own road when he was approached by Kasumaj and shot repeatedly.

The next day, Kasumaj chased Mr Rakaj, 43, from his Harringay home and fired at him a number of times. Mr Rakaj was rushed to hospital and treated for a gunshot wound to his back, where a bullet is still lodged. Kasumaj was arrested in New Southgate shortly after.

Shortly after 9.30pm that same evening police officers discovered the body of Mr Grbic at his home in Milton Avenue, East Ham. A post-mortem revealed he had died of gunshot wounds.

Diminished responsibility: Kasumaj

Kasumaj believed that all three of his victims owed him money.

Detective Chief Inspector Andy Redwood said: "Kasumaj used a handgun to shoot the victims at close range - it was a miracle no one else was hit."

Kasumaj, who was already serving a two-year sentence for possessing a handgun, was jailed at Woolwich Crown Court on September 15.

£85 Million* Mega Jackpot Next Tuesday

The National Lottery is set to inject even more excitement into your week with a EuroMillions Mega Jackpot of £85 million next Tuesday (4 October)! This jaw-dropping amount could all be won by a single UK player, making them the joint 817th richest person in the UK! If the Mega Jackpot isn't won on the Tuesday night, it will roll to Friday's draw.

Welcome to my world: Hector Riva is the face of EuroMillions.

Welcome to the world of a millionaire!

A EuroMillions Mega Jackpot win of £85 million would propel any UK winner into the luxury life of the jet-set. With a huge fortune in your bank you could splash out on a life of big houses, fast cars and parties overflowing with champagne!

There are now two EuroMillions draws every week – one on Tuesday and one on Friday, meaning that more millionaires are being created than ever before. The UK's biggest winners to date, Colin and Chris Weir from Largs, scooped a massive EuroMillions jackpot of £161 million earlier this year.

A EuroMillions spokesperson said, "This will be one big Tuesday – with a massive £85 million up for grabs. By the weekend you could be propelled into the exclusive world of the jet set, and you would have enough cash to take your family and friends with you."

"EuroMillions has really captured the public's imagination, creating numerous multi-million pound winners in the UK, as well as boosting returns to Good Causes here in the process. The game has the huge draws and jackpots that players love, and of course the chance to win twice a week."

If no one matches all five main numbers and the two Lucky Star numbers to win the jackpot in Tuesday's draw then the jackpot will roll to Friday 7 October.

Hector Riva's dream shopping list

Celebrate your EuroMillions win in style with a collection of opulent purchases! Here are some of Hector's ideas to get you started.

£85 million will buy you a year and a half staying on Roman Abramovich's personal mega-yacht – the world's largest. For £1.2m a week you can make use of two swimming pools, a gym and two heli-pads

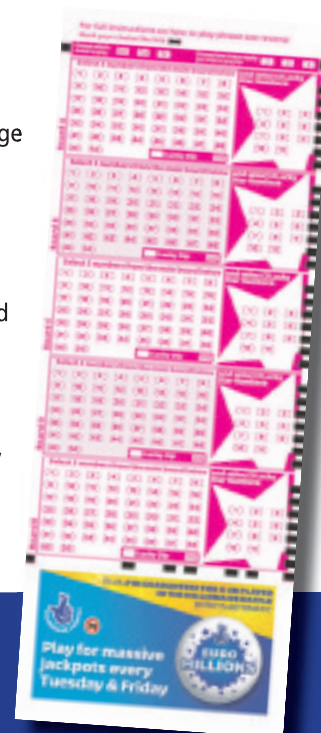

Make the most of your heli-pad access by taking to the skies in your very own helicopter. A Eurocopter EC120 can seat five people and only costs £1 million

If you're after luxury travel over long distances then a private jet is the answer. For £63m you can become the owner of a Boeing 767 – it has a cruising speed of 850km/h, ideal for jetting from country to country

Keep in touch with family while you're jet-setting with a Diamond Rose iPhone 4. It costs £5m and comes encrusted with 500 diamonds – it's the classy way to communicate

Set up a UK base at one of the most prestigious apartment buildings in the world, One Hyde Park in London. A flat here will cost in the region of £27m and there are eye scanners in the private elevators to prevent unwanted guests

Be the envy of all motorists by driving the world's most expensive car. The Bugatti Veyron Super Sports will set you back £1.5m. It can do 0-60 in 2.5 seconds and has a top speed of 267mph.

How to play and win on EuroMillions

- Pick five main numbers from 1-50 and two Lucky Star numbers from 1-11, or choose a Lucky Dip® for a random selection of numbers
- EuroMillions costs £2 for each line of numbers and can be played up to four weeks in advance

what's on

Odd jobs to get done by Friday...

NEED a bit of gardening done?... and what about some interior decorating?... and then there's those pesky tax returns you keep putting off... books still to be returned to the library?... stuff to sell on Ebay?... that dinner party to prepare ... proofreading?... baking?... etc... etc... etc!

Increasingly it feels like we just don't have the time to do everything. Step forward the latest, most practical of our super-heroes... Girl Friday!

"We are so busy multi-tasking all the time and everyone wishes they could just clone themselves," she said. "I went back to see my mum recently who lives on her own and she has lots of things needed doing, and it just made me aware there are so many people out there who need a hand."

Unmasking the head-scarfed heroine is easy – she's none other than Rachel Dale, actress and theatre columnist for our sister paper The Enfield Advertiser and Wood Green resident.

Finding time on her hands in-between acting jobs she dreamed up Save Me Girl Friday – a witty counterpart to Robinson Crusoe's right-hand man who always seemed to end up doing all the work on their desert island.

Handywoman: Actress Rachel Dale has set up Save Me Girl Friday

"I am very flexible and love meeting people and not knowing what I'll be doing from day to day because each job is different," she said. "Recently I picked up a famous playwright from hospital. He had an operation and I was his eyes for the day. Then I was filling in someone's pond, taking kids to the cinema, helping an actor learn their lines, then baking cupcakes!"

"I've also recently trained as a wedding celebrant so can conduct non-religious weddings and naming ceremonies!"

FOUL TACTICS ANGER HARRY

By Tom Sweetman

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR manager Harry Redknapp believes that Gareth Bale is on the receiving end of too many fouls and thinks the only way to help the Welshman is for referees to continue dishing out the cards.

Wigan's Steve Gohouri was dismissed after picking up two bookings for bringing down the winger during Spurs' 2-1 victory at the DW Stadium on Saturday.

Bale was also on the receiving end of two bad tackles from Martin Skrtel which saw him receive his marching orders after collecting two yellow cards in their 4-0 home defeat of Liverpool the previous week.

And Pablo Zabaleta was another man to be booked for a foul against him in Tottenham's 5-1 defeat to Manchester City.

"Some try to stop Bale by just hacking him down. It doesn't work," said Redknapp. "What can referees do to stop it? Carry on giving out yellow and red cards. That is the only way."

Bale scored Spurs' second, a header from a Luka Modric corner, in the win against Wigan which takes them up to sixth place as they secured a third successive Premier League victory for the first time since February.

Rafael van der Vaart, who opened Tottenham's scoring in the third minute by finishing superbly after Emmanuel Adebayor took advantage of a mistake from Maynor Figueroa, understands why his team-mate is on the receiving end of so many fouls.

"Bale is great, so quick and strong," he said. "I'm just glad I don't have to mark him. I feel sorry for those that do."

"There have been a lot of cards for fouls against him, but that's because it's impossible to stop him at times."

"When Gareth goes on one of those amazing runs all a defender can do is resort to kicking him or pulling him down."

"Sometimes, when he has been floored, you think the challenge has been so bad that he is heading for hospital – but he bounces back up again and you just look on in admiration."

Marked man: Gareth Bale has been on the receiving end of a number of bad challenges this season

Borough seal a narrow victory in the FA Vase

HARINGEY BOROUGH enjoyed their second win over St Margaretsbury at Coles Park in the space of ten days as they beat them 2-1 in the second qualifying round of the FA Vase on Saturday.

Richard Worrell followed his hat-trick in the previous meeting by grabbing the opening goal this time around on ten minutes as he drove home just inside the keeper's left-hand post from the edge of the area after Darrell Cox had played him through.

Borough seemed to have full control of the game when they doubled their lead on 57 minutes, Cox sliding a neat finish past the keeper after latching on to a flick from Ben Butler.

However, just eight minutes later Borough keeper Ryohei Tamai pulled off a good save after some poor defending, only for the ball to bounce into the net off Dave Gillett.

Spurred on by the goal, St Margaretsbury upped the tempo, producing some threatening approach play and looking especially dangerous from set pieces.

And, well into injury time, they won a corner – only for Tamai to save the day for Borough by being in the right place to gather and hold on to the loose ball before his resultant kick downfield was followed by the final whistle.

Borough's reward is a home tie against fellow Spartan League outfit Hadley in the first round proper.

Hadley also provide Borough's opposition in the league on Saturday.
